From the Swiss Alps, a luxury experience

THE ORIGINS

A story carved in stone

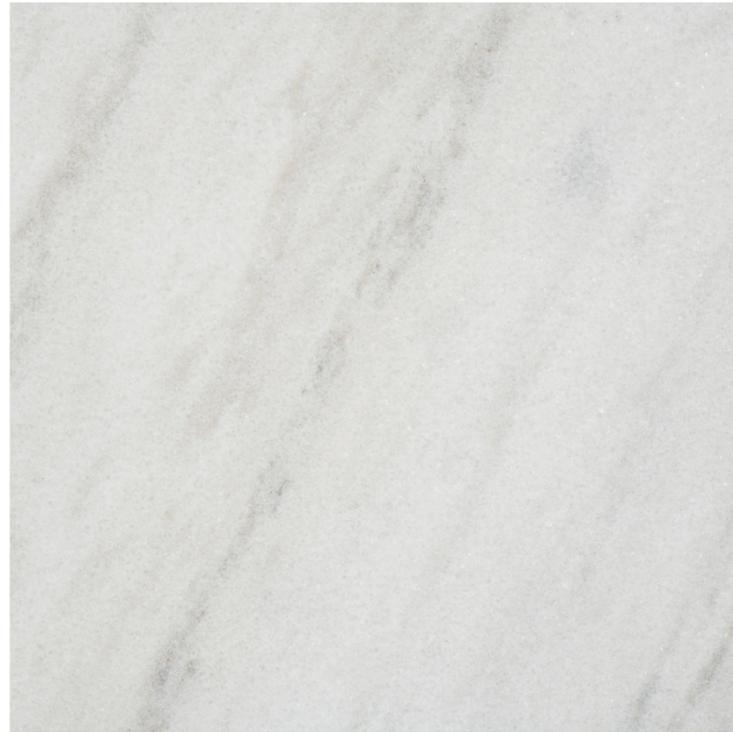

For over 130 years, our family has been extracting and working natural stone, preserving knowledge passed down from generation to generation. Cristallina Design was born from the desire to transform marble into an exclusive luxury experience, where time stops and the material tells its story.

OUR VISION

More than a material, an experience

Cristallina Design is not just a brand: it is a sensory experience, an emotion carved in stone. Each creation comes to life from the only marble quarry in Switzerland, an exclusive source of pure excellence.

But it is not just matter: it is soul, history and timeless energy, transformed into design to evoke desire, prestige and authenticity.

OUR MISSION

Transforming Exclusive Swiss Marble into Timeless Art and Design

Our mission is to transform Cristallina marble, the only stone quarried in Switzerland, into timeless works of art, fusing craftsmanship with innovation to create unique sensory experiences.

Each creation is designed to enrich not only spaces, but also the lives of those who live in them, telling a story that combines art and design. We believe in authentic luxury, made of emotion, exclusivity and continuity. Cristallina Design is for those who seek uncompromising excellence, for those who believe that true luxury is living every day surrounded by authentic beauty, and for those who want to leave a legacy of style and meaning.

OUR CEO

Nataschia Finocchiaro Maurino – The vision behind Cristallina® Design

Always passionate about art, elegance and form, I have studied communication and the psychology of the image, discovering in design the most authentic expression of essence.

Fifteen years ago, my husband and I acquired the only marble quarry in Switzerland, integrating it into our family Maison, Graniti Maurino (1894). From here, Cristallina® Design was born: a collection of furnishings and accessories in Cristallina marble, created with young international talents. Authenticity, beauty and functionality guide each creation, designed to harmonize with contemporary life, offering a unique sensory experience and a return to matter in its purest form.
